MEET UNCLE

PIZZA STEVE

Steve is a cool pizza slice. He is never seen without his sunglasses and is always happy to tell wild stories to anyone who will listen.

WHO IS HE?

Uncle Grandpa is a magical dude who loves eating ice-cream, making pancakes and helping out kids all over the world. He lives in an RV with his AWSM pals who often cause him trouble!

GIANT REALISTIC FLYING TIGER

The strangest of Uncle Grandpa's crew is RAWRSM! She is a photo cut out of an actual tiger. She can fly and leaves a rainbow trail wherever she goes! She can't speak, but the whole gang understand her roars!

HE'S ONE GNARLY DUDE!

GRANDPA

MR GUS

He's a million-year-old dinosaur with a grumpy attitude, but he's laid-back and cool. He keeps Uncle Grandpa out of trouble and stops Pizza Steve causing too much trouble.

UNCLE SKILLZ

Uncle Grandpa is magic, fun-loving and even though he's an uncle and a grandpa he still has AWESOME skillz! One of his magical abilities is to make duplicates of himself and he has a talking red bag named Belly Bag.

DZ DEATHRAYS

MEET AUSTRALIA'S WILDEST
ROCK RATS, DZ DEATHRAYS!

DZ STATS

FORMED: 2010

FROM: Brisbane, QLD

STYLE: Punk Rock

MEMBERS: Shane

Parsons (Vocals, guitar)

Simon Ridley (Drums)

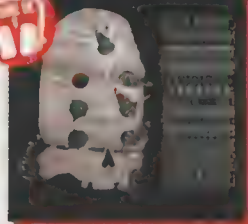

ALBUMS: Bloodstreams

(2012), Black Rat (2014)

AWARDS: ARIA for best
Hard Rock/Heavy Metal

DEADLY DUO

DZ Deathrays make a whole lot of noise but they only have two members. Shane and Simon met when they were playing in a 12 piece band called Wilcoisplot. The DZ dudes sometimes play live with a third member for extra rock impact!

LISTEN UP DZ DEATHRAYS - BLACK RAT

The DZ boys pack a lot of energy into eleven tracks and each riff will have you bouncing off the walls! Sounds like a mosh pit in ya stereo!

PARTY PATROL

These guys know how to get the party started, they played their first gigs at parties all around Brisbane! They used to be known as 'DZ' but changed their name to DZ Deathrays before they toured the USA so they wouldn't be confused with a dubstep DJ!

WHATCHA COLLECTIN'?

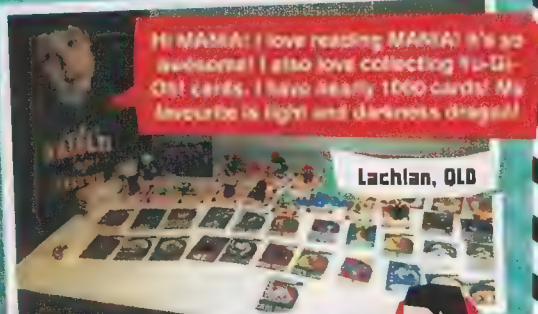

SNEAKERS

Talk about choice, Jordan Geller from Las Vegas certainly has a tough decision when he wakes up each morning and has 2,600 pairs of sneakers to choose from. The most expensive pair are valued at $7,100! They were made by Converse commemorating the 30th anniversary of Michael Jordan's 1982 game-winning shot.

STICKY SITUATION!

Who knew bubble-gum could bring such happiness. Sarah Maughan has been collecting gum for more than 63 years! So there must be something special about this chewy candy. She has 1445 types of gum including 1,500,000 gum wrappers and 3,000,000 links. Now that's enough to hurt your jaw.

Hi MAMA! I love reading MAMA! It's so awesome! I also love collecting Yu-Gi-Oh! cards. I have nearly 1000 cards! My favourite is light and darkness dragon!

Lachlan, QLD

You're almost there, Lachlan!
What a fantastic effort and dedication! We give your sweet collection a double thumbs up!

Hi Mami! I love your ring, it looks like my Bakugan collection. I have 10 Bakugan and 43 cards!

Whattup, Charlie?
That's a pretty rad collection you've got there!
It looks like you've got plenty of cards to play with and loads of ability to take on challengers!

RACCOON TALK!

WE GET THE INSIDE WORD ON
REGULAR SHOW WITH WILL SKYVERS,
THE VOICE OF RIGBY!

MANIA: What's the most fun thing for you working on Regular Show?

WILL "What's great about Regular Show is you get to do things you wouldn't ordinarily get to do on a camera job or even on stage. What really sticks in my mind is the day the director said 'Now this next line is you being wadded up and disintegrated...GO!' That kind of thing is really good to do."

MANIA: What was your aim in voicing the character Rigby?

WILL "My voice but higher pitched and on way too much coffee. I did this preview trailer where Mordecai and Rigby are playing Rock, Paper, Scissors. There were lines like: 'Two ties, you don't know what I'm going to play next, baby!' So he seemed to me to be a really high-energy character."

MANIA: Are people blown away when they find out that's your voice on TV?

WILL "My friend always says 'If voice actors were superheroes we'd have the power of invisibility,' because we don't get recognised. No one knows unless I use it. I have a teenage son whose friends get a real kick out of it!"

MANIA: How would you describe your personality in real life?

WILL "I would describe myself as perfectly normal and I'm probably the only person that would describe myself that way."

MANIA: What's the funniest thing you've had to do voicing Rigby?

WILL "I think doing the hamboning was one of the goofiest things I had to do. Apart from that there have been lots of noises; man, that raccoon screams a lot!"

MANIA: You've voiced computer games too. Who did you voice in Skyrim?

WILL "I'm the voice of every beggar you hear when you walk into every town. I also play the voice of one of the Daedric princes in a quest which ends in you getting a pretty awesome staff."

MANIA: Have you ever done any voicing for bad guys? Is that a fun thing to do?

WILL "It's a blast. I did a sequel to a game called Darkness, Darkness 2 where I played a snarling, hunchbacked bad guy, Victor. That was a lot of fun. I try not to be like that in real life."

YOUR GUIDE TO BUILDING
A MIGHTY
MINECRAFT CITY!

MINECRAFT

ARE YOU READY?

Minecraft noobs will want to jump straight in and start from the word GO, but building a metropolis can cost mega resources. TIP: Before you start, build up a stash of supplies. Any of this bling will come in super handy:

- STONE (BLOCKS, COBBLESTONE, OR STONE BRICK)
- LOGS (SUPPORTS)
- IRON BLOCKS
- WOOD
- SLABS
- GLASS PANES AND STAINED GLASS PANES
- BEDROCK OR OBSIDIAN
- QUARTZ (FOR IMPORTANT BUILDINGS)

Before you start, sketch your idea on paper and use it to help you layout your city. Remember: the better your design, the radder the result!

CHOOSE UR CITY THEME!

The sky's the limit and the cooler the better! Try these on for size:

INVISIBLE CITY

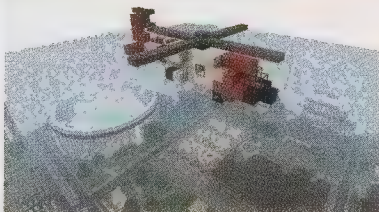

A city made from glass or window panes!

HIDDEN VOLCANO CITY

A secret city hidden inside a volcano!

THE SHIRE

Remake the famous town from Lord of the Rings!

TRANSPORT

Will you drive, walk, sail or teleport around your city? Think outside the square and use mods to get your city moving!

METROPOLIS

ZONE IT BRO!

Once you've got your plans, it's time to start laying bricks, yo! A bustling metropolis has got to be legit, so be sure to add in these wikkid zones:

RESIDENTIAL ZONE

Where your houses are at, man! Build roads branching out from a central building and on either side put some houses. Furniture helps make them look like comfy cribs!

COMMERCIAL ZONE

Build restaurants, arcades and useful shops. Think about what you might need or want to do to make money and relax!

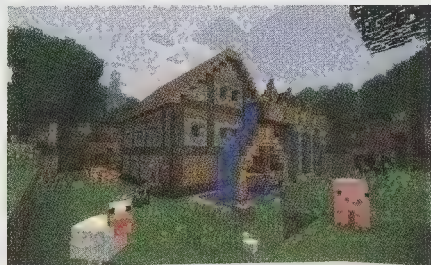

INDUSTRIAL ZONE

Factories, laboratories and anything you need for production go here. Plan your industrial zone well away from your residential zone so that you don't spoil the rich peeps' million-dollar views!

RURAL ZONE

If it goes 'moo' or looks good in a pie, it goes here!

GET CREATIVE!

Choosing the kinds of buildings you want in your 'hood never gets boring. Check out these MANIAC ideas:

BAKERY

Make a building with a player who sells cakes, bread and pumpkin pies! Connect it to a cake factory and build a cow, sugarcane, wheat, chicken and pumpkin farm!

PET SHOP

Where players can buy wolves and ocelots. Fill chests with rotten flesh and bones (dog food) and raw fish (cat food)!

POTIONS SHOP

A shop where players can buy any potion they need!

PAGE 1

Treasure! You wake. Where did that voice come from? You are in the hallway of the small guest house in the seaside town of Seasideville. You and your parents are staying here for the summer holidays. Treasure! The screaming voice is coming from the living room. You edge your way to the door and peer inside. A large, colourful bird is sitting on a perch by the window. It's a magpie. Treasure! It screeches again. You don't want to enter the living room, when you hear your mother calling from the kitchen that breakfast is ready. Your stomach rumbles.

If you are hungry and decide to eat breakfast, GO TO PAGE 3.
But if your curiosity is greater than your hunger, approach the bird and GO TO PAGE 6.

You enter the kitchen and sit down at the dining table with your parents. Mrs Tidale, the owner of the guesthouse, brings a plate stacked high with pancakes. You ask her about the magpie and why it keeps saying 'treasure'. Mr Tidale, that's his name, says Mrs Tidale, waving her hands in the air, of her fond doves. It seems that everyone in this town is obsessed with legends and myths. Even the local 'people', your mum says.

'Oh yes,' says Mrs Tidale with a wink. 'The town of Seasideville used to be inhabited by pirates, and Dead Man's Cove is where they launched their ships. According to legend, the Sarsfield pirate hid them off. One-eyed William, was buried somewhere around here along with his treasure. They say he kept a hugenubby in his deformed, empty eye socket! Someone buried you guys and you will want to see a strange man leaning in the kitchen doorway. He has long black hair tied back in a tail ponytail and mismatched eyes – one small and safely, the other wide and staring. Even though it's a warm day, he's wearing a tweed jacket with leather patches on the elbows. Mrs Tidale introduces him as Inspector Wooster, the only officer posted permanently in the guesthouse.

The professor questions Mrs Tidale about the legend of One-eyed William's buried treasure, but she doesn't know much more. She suggests that the museum would be a good place to get more information. Your parents decide to visit the museum and then go down to Dead Man's Cove.

Do you want to find out more about pirates? To visit the museum with your parents, GO TO PAGE 24.
If you'd rather ditch your parents and explore the town on your own, GO TO PAGE 8.

DEAD MAN'S LOVE

BY GEORGE IVANOFF

You go into the town with your treasure. As they head off to the docks, you witness a crowd clanking out the town.

Most of the town lives in poverty. The jeweler store is called the Treasure Chest, the store that sells jewelry and other treasure. The deck there's a wooden raft called the Hungry Boat. And the big store is the Main Market, where a bunch of shops and stalls are down. Including food, clothing, and other. Like your's. Over there. Even the pirates' taverns and the local florist for all the...

The town of Seaside is a little bit different. It's a little bit different.

You buy a bag of chocolate candy from the local store, and you go to the town square. There are some kids sitting in the base of a giant stone of wood in the square. At the end of the road is a little boat covered in people's legs. Where would you go?

If you think it would be fun to hang out with the local kids, GO TO PAGE 12. But if you decide to check out the pirate booth, GO TO PAGE 19.

KNOW YA TYPE

CLASSIC:

These dudes are the feet-shuffling standard. They move super slow and their main focus is "Braaaaaaiiinnss," but these classic creepers still pose a big threat. You can spot them by their green skin and RANK smell.

LURKERS:

These undead dudes will try to get the jump on you because they may have lost limbs during their gnarly zombification! They hide in cupboards, under beds and sometimes in the fridge to catch you by surprise!

RUNNERS:

Lace up ya sneaks, YAKs. These guys do just what the label says – run! Like classic zombies, these guys are rank-smelling, brain busters, and they will chase you down to turn you to lunch!

CATCH THE BUG

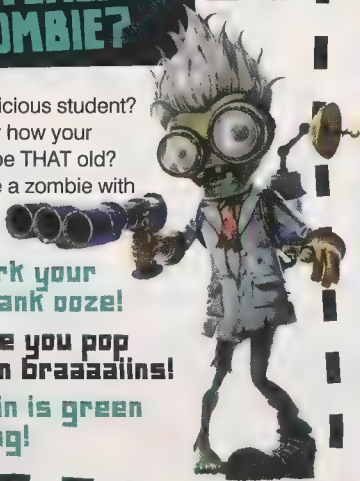

Like werewolves, vampires and the MANIA Abomination, zombies spread by biting – avoid their saliva at all costs! That means don't be bitten, licked, spat on, or – YEEEEELCH – kissed by a zombie!

IS YA TEACHER A ZOMBIE?

Are you a suspicious student?
Do you wonder how your teacher could be THAT old?
Check if they're a zombie with these steps.

- They mark your tests in rank ooze!
- They give you pop quizzes on braaaaains!
- Their skin is green and peeling!

BATTLE TIPS

WEAPON:

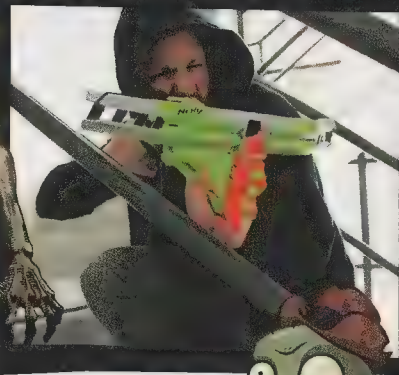

Strike down walkers from a distance to avoid their toxic bite! Nerf guns like the Zombie Strike Crossfire Bow are perfect for nailing accurate and unbelievable shots on the undead!

LOCATION:

Choose your battleground wisely. Overrun cities are bad choices because zombies can come from anywhere. Camp out in a shopping centre, school or warehouse where there will be no gross surprises!

STRATEGY:

Aim high and unload your full clip! Zombies use brainpower to survive, so you have to make 'em go splat!

BILLY SLATER PRESENTS: TRY TIME

WRITTEN BY PATRICK LOUGHLIN
ILLUSTRATED BY NAHUM ZIERSCH

Okay, lads, gather round,' called Coach Steve. It was training day for the West Hill Ravens and the team had just finished their warm-up laps around the field. The boys came and sat around Coach behind the goal- posts. Josh sat off to the side. No one had mentioned the dropped pass, but he still felt guilty. He was sure no one had forgotten the reason behind the team's opening- game loss.

'All right, who remembers what I said at training last week?' asked Coach Steve. 'You said Blake was a goose,' said Ravi. 'Yes, I did say that and for good reason,' replied Coach. ' You should never run around with your trackpants on your head. It's dangerous. But that's not what I'm talking about.'

'Oh, I remember. You said you would buy us pizza if we made the finals,' said Tai.

'OMG! BILLY SLATER'S GONNA TRAIN US?'
ASKED AZZA.

'Yay! Pizza!' cried the team. 'Ah, no, I didn't say that. I think I would remember,' Coach Steve said sternly.

Tai shrugged. 'That's what I heard.'

'Well, you heard wrong. If you lot can't remember, I guess I'll have to remind you. Last week I promised you a surprise guest at training today.'

"Oh yeah, now I remember," said Blake.

Coach smiled broadly. 'Maybe you remember me telling you that when I lived up north as a boy I played footy for -'

'Australia!' cried Tai.

Coach shook his head. 'Stop interrupting, or you'll be running another lap around the oval. Now, as I was saying, as a kid I played footy for -'

'Hey, look - a taxi!' Blake pointed over to the car park. Within seconds the boys were all on their feet, trying to get a look.

'He's here,' said Coach Steve.

'Who's here?' asked Tai and Blake and Azza and Ravi.

But Josh didn't need to ask. He recognised his hero straight away. 'It's -'

"Billy Slater," finished Coach Steve. 'We used to play footy together, and I knew he was in town for a game, so I asked him to give the team a special training session.'

'OMG! Billy Slater's gonna train us?' asked Azza.

'Yep!' Coach Steve waved for Billy to join them.

The whole team swarmed around Billy and began asking a thousand questions all at once.

'What's it like to win a grand final?' asked Tai.

'What's it like to play for Australia?' asked Azza.

'How many tries have you scored?' asked Liam.

'And how many tries have you saved?' asked Blake.

'How much money do you get paid?' asked Corey.

'Corey, that's a bit personal,' warned Coach Steve.

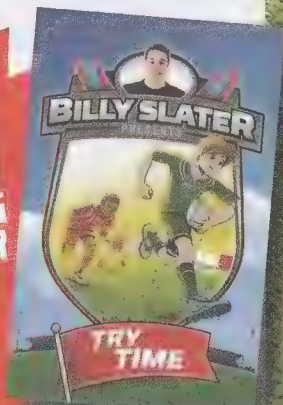

'But that's what I was gonna ask, too,' said Cameron. 'Is it a million dollars?'

'Cameron!' yelled Coach Steve.

Billy chuckled. 'How about you guys ask one question at a time and I'll try to answer them all.'

Josh was the only one who wasn't asking questions. He was still in shock. His all-time footy hero was standing right there in front of him.

SCOOT TRIX PRO!

We kick it with action sports prodigy,
Ryan Williams from Nitro Circus Live 2014!

I can fly!

FACT FEST!

Nickname: R Willy

Age: 19

Occupation: Scooter Rider

Hometown: Sunshine
Coast, Australia

Special trick: Silly Willy

Dream job: Riding for
Nitro Circus (DONE!)

MANIA: How did you start doing tricks on your scooter?

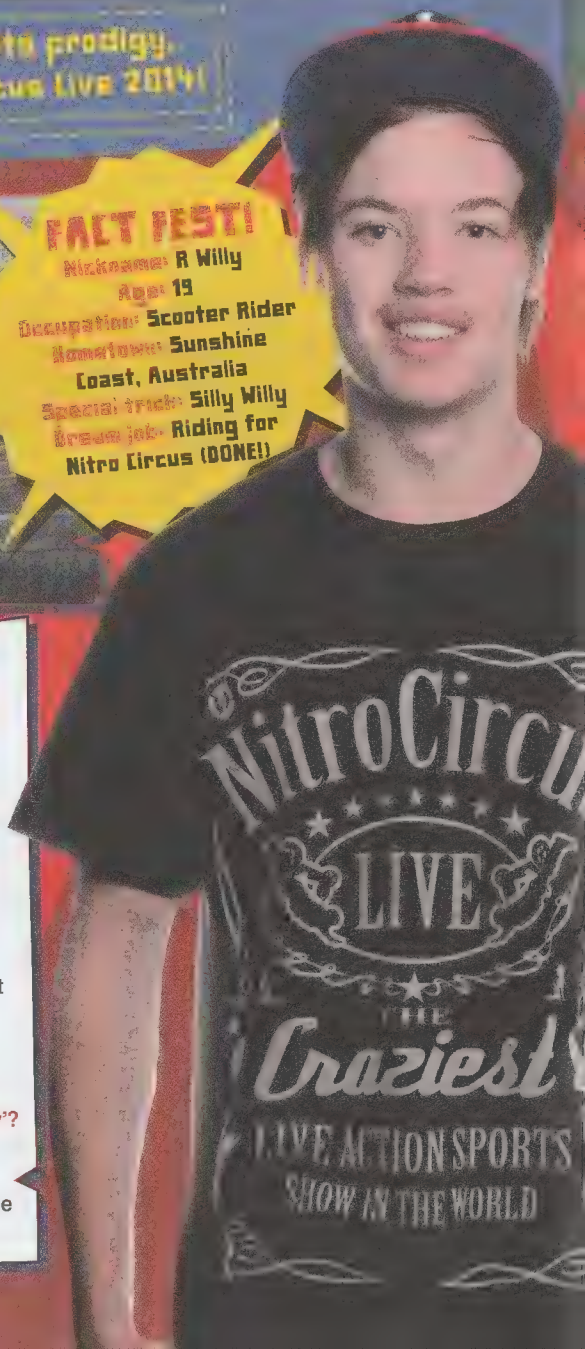

RYAN: "I used to rollerblade when I was 12 and all my mates rode scooters at my local skatepark. After seeing them learning tricks together and having fun, I got one for myself."

MANIA: Highlights of your career?

RYAN: "It's hard to pick but one of the tricks would have to be my first ever Double Frontflip 360 which Travis Pastrana named "The Silly Willy". Another one would be my Frontflip Front Bikeflip, which was the first 'World First' I ever did on a bike, and it was in France in one the craziest shows we have ever had!"

MANIA: Feelings after landing the 'Silly Willy'?

RYAN: "Relief and happiness! Landing a new trick in any sport, I feel, gives you this unmatched feeling that you can only describe when you experience it."

Uh oh, traffic jam!

Landing gear
activate!

MANIA: How do you come up with such sweet moves?

RYAN: "If it works in my dreams, then I'll give it a go and find out if it works in the real world!"

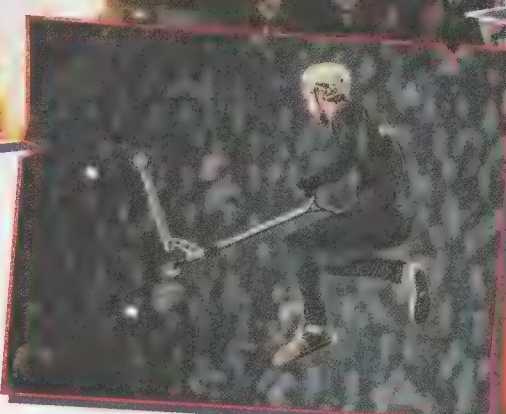

MANIA: How do you feel before each performance?

RYAN: "I guess I have performed for so long that it just feels normal to be backstage, thinking about the tricks I'm doing in the show and hoping they will all go to plan."

MANIA: Which move do you plan to conquer next?

RYAN: "The world's first triple backflip on scooter! I tried a few times in America but didn't pull the landing, so I'm saving it for my home country, Australia!"

CATCH NITRO LIVE
CIRCUS 2014 ON ITS AUSSIE TOUR
FROM 10 MAY TO 01 JUNE!

MANIA: Worst accident so far?

RYAN: "I'm actually super lucky compared to the other athletes (touch wood) but the worst was probably smashing my teeth out trying one of my first ever Silly Willy's."

MANIA: What's going to be different in this year's Nitro Circus Live?

RYAN: "The setup is bigger, the contraptions are crazier and the tricks are even gnarlier! We're also debuting a crazy new ramp for the first time. Australian fans will be the first to see it in the flesh before we pack it up and go back on tour around the rest of the world!"

Infinity Drake: SONS OF

'Do you see the helicopter?' interrupted Finn, looking back out of the window of the Mangusta. 'That what?'

Al believed in the to and fro of vigorous debate on long journeys and, as such, he and Finn had spent much of the morning arguing about wind turbines, football, whether Concorde could be revived and adapted to fly into space, whether snow was better than powered flight and, if the Nazis had taken over, which of Grandma's friends would have turned collaborator.

They were just starting on Al's assertion that 'rock music is wasted on kids' when Finn first noticed the chopper.

He craned his neck to get a good look back up the road. Al tried to locate it in his mirrors.

The route was winding and the tree cover heavy, as they were on the edge of the New Forest, but unmistakably, less than a couple of hundred metres behind and above them, a helicopter was swinging back and forth, following the line of the road, getting lower and lower as it went.

'It's getting really low,' said Finn. 'What do you think they're doing?'

'I hope it's not your truant officer ...' said Al, letting the joke trail off as he became more concerned.

The chopper was approaching fast now, almost skimming the tops of the trees. A couple of cars behind them had both slowed and pulled over.

Al carried on — the chopper didn't have police markings after all — but as they came over a ridge into more open country it closed in, violently large and loud, bringing itself right up alongside the Mangusta. 'What are they doing?' said Al. Then a voice echoed out of a loudhailer on the chopper's belly.

'DR ALLENBY, PULL OVER.'

'They know you?' squealed Finn, impressed.

Al slowed to a halt. The chopper went to land in the road ahead.

'What is this? What's going on?' said Finn.

Al paused for a moment. 'I'm not sure, but at the very least it's bad manners.'

He suddenly put his foot down. The car shot off. Then Al threw it into a screeching handbrake turn which spun them back the way they came. The V8 engine roared and Finn felt himself pushed back into the leather seat as the acceleration bit —

"He suddenly put his foot down. The car shot off."

BY DEREK LANDY

SCARLATTI

there was no doubt about it, these cars were built to thrill.

'Why aren't we stopping?' Finn shouted.

'Might be agents of a foreign state ... Might be an old girlfriend trying to kill me ... But don't worry, we can lose them in the woods up here.' Was he joking? He must be joking. Then Finn noticed that Al's knuckles were white where he gripped the wheel. Finn hunkered down lower in his seat, heart hammering with excitement.

'Drive fast, Al.'

'Check.'

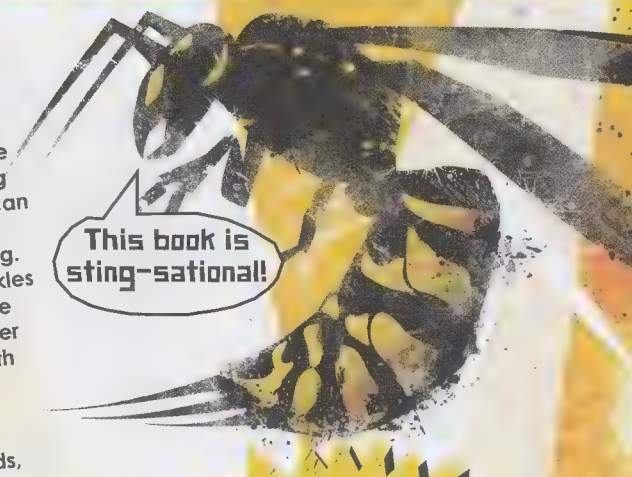

They were closing on the woods, but the chopper was almost upon them.

Again came the voice from the chopper's loudhailer: 'PULL OVER, DR ALLENBY, BY ORDER OF COMMANDER KING.'

Al cursed, slammed on the brakes and spun the Mangusta back to a halt at the side of the road, just short of the trees. The chopper descended gently on to the grass beside them.

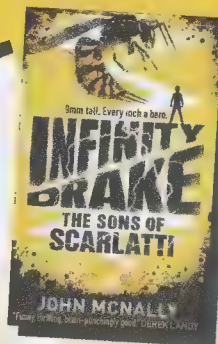

Finn was transfixed. 'Al ...?' he started to ask, but his uncle, too furious to speak, just folded his arms and waited.

Further down the road two police 4 x 4s were approaching. Two men in Security Service suits leapt out of the chopper and made their way over as the engine powered down. 'Sir, you've got to come with—'

The Sims 4

We know a lot of people can't get enough of The Sims, and once this fourth game comes out we plan on devoting a lot of time to our new computer families! This is going to be a more emotional experience – Sims will be able to do multiple things at once, and may experience long lasting effects from things that happen to them! Even the lighting in a room might affect how a Sim is feeling – you'll have to pay closer attention to these guys than ever!

Super Smash Bros

We've been hearing new details about the next Smash Bros games, and we're getting more and more excited! Some new fighters include Rosalina from Super Mario Galaxy and Little Mac from the Punch Out games, and the 3DS version will contain a level based on Pokémon X/Y. Each game will have different levels based on series that are popular on home and portable consoles! The game should move a little slower than Brawl did on the Wii, which means that it'll be more tactical and fun!

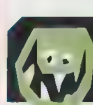

Platform: Wii U
Style: Platformer
Publisher: Nintendo
Price: $79.95

Donkey Kong Country Tropical Freeze

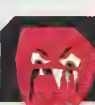

Gameplay: Gaming's greatest ape is back, along with Diddy, Dixie and Cranky Kong! This Wii U platformer follows on from Donkey Kong Country Returns on the Wii and 3DS, as the Kongs try to defeat an evil penguin force by rolling and jumping through a bunch of really hard 2D platformer levels! Every level is packed full of secret stuff to discover, but even if you're just trying to get to the end of the game Tropical Freeze can be a heap of fun! It gets super difficult by the end though, and some of the boss fights are just CRAZY – we died on some of them over and over again! This is a game for YAKs who want a challenge, and thanks to the co-op mode you don't need to go in there alone!

Graphics: One of the best things about the Wii U is seeing all of our favourite Nintendo characters in HD, and it's great seeing Donkey Kong looking so good! The levels look AWSM: we loved moving through each world and seeing what the artists came up with! The music is by the dude who worked on the original Super Nintendo games too – your parents might find themselves humming along!

NOT!

Really great level designs!

NOT!

Extremely hard!

The LEGO Movie Videogame

Gameplay: Everything is AWSM! After playing so many LEGO games based on other movie series, playing one based on The LEGO Movie itself feels a little strange! But this is a great game adaptation of the film, letting you play as Emmet, Wyldstyle, and a bunch of other characters from the film (even Batman!). It plays out a lot like the other LEGO games, but with cutscenes and voice actors pulled straight from the film, with each level being based on a new scene! We liked smashing our way through the plot, although there are spoilers in here if you haven't managed to see the film yet! There are some cool new tricks in this one – you can combine LEGO objects together, and sometimes the game will ask you to work out which pieces are missing from LEGO objects! This is lots of fun for LEGO fans!

Graphics: We played the game on Xbox One, and it looked super shiny! In fact it looks a whole lot like the movie, and smashing up all the objects in the levels never gets old! The action switches around a lot too – an early sequence where you ride a giant motorbike through traffic looks really cool!

HOT!

A great take on the film!

NOT!

Very similar to other LEGO games!

Yoshi's New Island

Gameplay: Yoshi's back, with a new set of worlds to explore! Yoshi games are rarely very difficult, and this one is no exception – we didn't have a hard time reaching the end in eight hours, but we had a lot of fun along the way. You're carrying Baby Mario through each level, shooting eggs at enemies, ground-pounding objects, and trying to collect all sorts of hidden bits and bobs – if you like to find everything hidden in a game, there's plenty to dig up! There are some really neat ideas and levels in this game, and we love the way Yoshi can turn into vehicles for levels that are controlled by tilting the 3DS! This game will feel very familiar to anyone who has played a platformer starring Yoshi before, but that doesn't mean that it isn't a lot of fun!

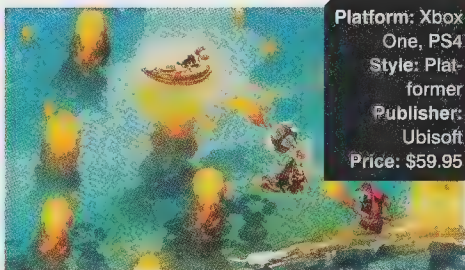

Graphics: The original Yoshi's Island was one of the very best looking games on the Super Nintendo. It was so amazing, in fact, that we don't think that this new one actually looks as good, but it's still really wonderful! With the 3D effects turned on, Yoshi's New Island is a totally beautiful game. It looks like it's all been drawn in with crayons!

Angry Birds: Epic

This latest Angry Birds game is completely different from the usual fare, but it's still a lot of fun! This one is a turn-based combat game, where you pick which order to attack your enemies in. It's a little simple, but pretty addictive and fun, and you can get a lot of fun out of it without spending a cent!

Bears vs Art

You're a bear attacking an art gallery – we think art galleries are pretty cool places, but this bear doesn't seem to agree! This is a simple puzzle game that isn't bad, but make sure you avoid the in-game purchases – they're super expensive and not worth the money!

Platformer:
iPad, 99c

Snip & Chu

You're a toenail clipping, trying to save his chewing gum mate – sounds gross, right? But Snip & Chu is actually pretty fun! It's designed to look like an old-skool LCD game, like the ones the Mania team played as little kids, but it's still pretty cool for modern YAKs too!

iPad, $4.49

Tengami

Tengami is a puzzle game, but the best part isn't the puzzles, it's the art! Tengami is designed to look like a pop-up book, and flipping through the pages and moving parts of the paper around is really cool! It doesn't last 'long, but Tengami is a very beautiful game.

BILLY SLATER: TRY TIME

BY Patrick Loughlin

Kick off the footy season with the West Hill Ravens and their mentor NRL All Star fullback Billy Slater! Meet Josh Brown, an inexperienced but speedy winger with bounds of potential. But his lack of confidence is getting the better of him especially when a few fumbles make him want to give up on football forever. Can Billy help Josh overcome his nerves long enough to score? Turn to the back for tips to improve your game!

BROTHERBAND SLAVES OF SOCORRO

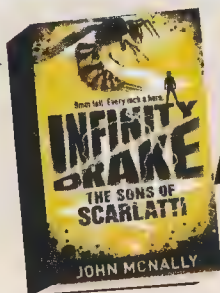

BY John Flanagan

The fourth installment in the Brotherband Chronicles sees the victorious Hal and his fellow Herons restored of their honour and sailing into action. Their journey takes an unexpected turn when an old rival sparks a new battle. Join the Herons on a dangerous quest to free captured Araluans from the slave market.

Here's some fantastic facts about wasps to whet your appetites MANIACs...

- A wasp's venom contains a special pheromone that causes other wasps to become more aggressive. So don't go swatting one while it's near its nest... unless you like being stung!
- As many as 10,000 wasps are believed to inhabit one nest. Yikes!
- The Asian Giant Hornet is the largest wasp in the world, with a body length of 50 mm and wingspan of 76 mm and a sting measuring 6 mm. Ouch!

COSPLAY

WE'VE GOT THE SCOOP ON HOW TO SUCCEED AT COSPLAY

SIERA

Siera is the 2013 Champion of the Madman National Cosplay Champs (MNCC) and will be judging this year.

MANIA: Why do you love cosplay?

S: "There are so many different things to love! It's an amazing creative outlet for me, and allows me to pay homage to my favourite characters, series or videogames."

MANIA: How do you research for a costume?

S: "I spend a lot of time studying fashion and textiles, and have taken a course in patternmaking, which has really helped me tackle new costumes and learn new skills."

MANIA: How do you choose the characters?

S: "They're my favourite! Wearing the same things that they wear makes you feel a part of them, and it's so much fun bringing them to life!"

MANIA: As a judge what are you looking for in this year's competitors?

S: "I'm really looking for a strong balance of costuming and skit to be played on stage - as cosplay is a combination of costume and roleplay!"

WHAT IS COSPLAY?

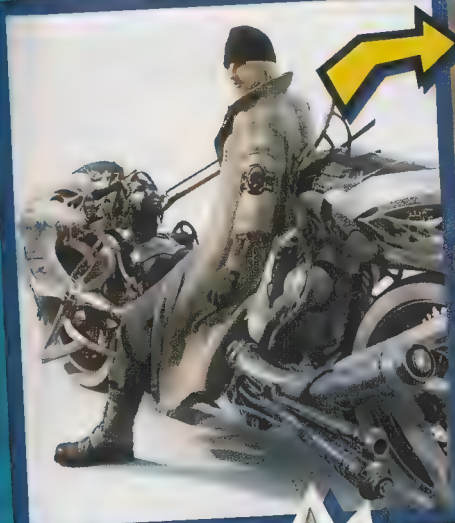

Cosplay combines role-playing characters with making complex costumes. The participants are known as cosplayers.

ORIGINS

In the 'eighties Japanese reporter, Nov Takahashi invented the word cosplay when covering a sci-fi convention in L.A. It is now a tradition to dress up at pop culture conventions all around the world!

NIA

WILLIAM

TITLES HELD: 2010 Champion, 2013 Finalist and Competitor in the 2014 MNCC.

MANIA: How did you learn to make costumes?

W: "The only thing I knew how to do when I first started making costumes is how to draw. I was self-taught at a lot of things and it involves some trial and error but now I can do woodwork, fiberglass work, plastic works and I handmade everything."

MANIA: What's the most outrageous thing you've done for a costume?

W: "When I cosplayed Snow Game from Final Fantasy XIII, the character is pretty plain so I decided to make his motorbike. I made a wooden frame and it looked realistic with a really good paintjob."

MANIA: Why do you cosplay?

W: It's a hobby where you can feature all of these creative skills in the one place. I know that everything I am wearing is a result of a lot of the work that I put in.

MANIA: How much have you spent on a costume?

W: "Sometimes it can be $0 just with left over materials under my bed but the most expensive one stacked up to be $2500!"

MAN IN FLEXIBLE!

MANIA SKATE LESSON:

OLLIE

MANIA HQ's resident skate head shows us how to get the ollie on!

STEP 1: SET IT UP

Crouch down on the balls of your feet and keep your shoulders in line with your feet.

STEP 2: POP IT UP

Now jump up, leading with your front foot and kicking down on the tail with your back foot. You should hear the loud 'pop' of the board bouncing off the ground!

As you jump, slide your front foot forward while pulling your back leg up.

STEP 3: CATCH IT

This is how you control height. For big air, pull your feet up as high as you can. When your feet are up, level the board out in mid-air with your feet to help your landing.

OLLIES ARE A TOTES
ESSENTIAL SKATE

AS WELL AS DOING MORE COMPLICATED TRICKS!

FRONT FOOT

BACK FOOT

KNOW YA PLACE

It's all about the foot positioning, YAKs! The ball of your front foot should be in the middle of the deck while the ball of your back foot is hanging on the tail. The further back your foot is the bigger the ollie!

STEP 4: LAND IT

Try to land both of your feet at the same time, with each foot as close to the trucks as possible. Bend your knees as you land to absorb the shock.

STEP 5: ROLL AWAY

If you're in motion, keep your eyes and shoulder pointing in the direction that you want to go in and roll through!

BOOKER: "I haven't watched any yet, but I'd love to go back and watch my old tag team Harlem Heat!"

MANIA: Does seeing your old tag team partner, Goldust, come back make you want to compete again?

BOOKER: "It gave me an itch maybe for a second! Goldy looks better than ever, he's doing moves he never used to, but when I see him after a week on the road and he's exhausted, that's when I say 'I told you so!'"

MANIA: What makes a good catch phrase?

BOOKER: "It comes from a guy who's doing something the crowd just gravitate to. When Daniel first started doing the 'Yes!' chant no one really noticed but he made it something special."

MANIA: Can any superstar dance move match the spinerooni?

BOOKER: "No way!"

MANIA: If you could have one more match – who would it be against?

BOOKER: "Shawn Michaels. He's the only top wrestler I never got to go one on one with!"
